MAIN STREET RESURFACING—Necaise Construction workers apply leveling coating to asphalt in front of the Knights of Columbus Hall on Main Street Tuesday. The resurfacing work was completed Wednesday from Second to St. Frances Streets and was done with aid from the Hancock County Board of Supervisors. Donn Murray, representative of Broadway and Seal engineers for the project, said the new 1-5 inch of topping should be a relief to motorists. A leveling of many areas had to take place before the top coat was put in place. Billy Johnson, Bay St. Louis superintendent, reports that the only thing left now is for the raising of the manhole covers and subsurface drainage covers and the City would get to that real soon. Bay mayor's marriage authority questioned

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
Bay St. Louis Mayor Larry Bennett apparently has married some 20 couples illegally during the last three years of his administration. Hancock County Circuit Clerk Henry Otis said Wednesday afternoon he sought a State Attorney General's opinion recently after a citizen questioned him about the mayor's authority to marry couples. The circuit clerk would not reveal the name of the citizen who raised the issue.

"An assistant to the attorney general said the other day if a mayor is also a municipal judge he is authorized to perform marriages," Otis stated. "I also found out Bennett is not a judge," Otis added. The mayor was unavailable for comment late Wednesday. "I did not speak to the State Attorney General, but to one of his assistants," Otis emphasized. "The assistant attorney general said it was not a real big problem and he couldn't conceive of a court overturning the marriages," the circuit clerk reported. Otis estimated some 18-20 couples have been married by Bennett over the last three years. When asked if any other recent mayors performed marriage ceremonies, Otis replied "no." The circuit clerk did not have any idea of what Bennett charged for the ceremonies and explained, "Anybody performing any marriage service has the authority to collect a fee, but I don't know what Bennett collected because several of the couples he married were his friends." "I haven't contacted the mayor yet because I didn't want to discuss the matter with him over the telephone. I would rather see him in person so I plan to go over tomorrow and tell him about it," the court clerk stated. Otis' office issues marriage licenses.

Board to air patron grievances at HNC

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
In an external public relations effort the Hancock County School Board will begin meeting at its various schools on a "trial basis" to air patrons' grievances. The first meeting will be at 10 a.m. Saturday in Hancock North Central's library. Board President Woodrow Ladner said at a school board meeting Saturday morning, "We will meet at each of our schools on a trial basis." Ladner explained if there was not a "good turnout" of patrons at the schools he would recommend discontinuing the community oriented meetings. The board will convene at 9 a.m.

Governor ok's Bay choice for port body

Governor William Winter this week has confirmed appointment of Herbert (Bully) Zengarlino of Bay St. Louis to the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission. Zengarlino was nominated for the position by the City of Bay St. Louis. He replaces Commissioner Fred Curet. Also this week, the governor re-appointed Commissioner James DeBlanc to the Commission. DeBlanc was recommended to the commission by the City of Waveland. The two are appointed for four year terms, the governor's office reported.

Saturday at the Dan M. Russell Sr. Youth Court Center on Court Street in Bay St. Louis then recess for the 10 a.m. meeting at HNC. Some three weeks ago School Patron Dan Hunby of the Fenton Community told school board members regarding parents picketing Gulfview Elementary School in Lakeshore, "It seems the school board has a public relations problem." "If school board members could attend each district school in a public forum, patrons could present their grievances at such a meeting," Hunby suggested. Regarding 16th Section land management conference at Diamondhead Country Club, Ladner reported interesting presentations were offered by speakers at the conference sponsored by the district, Land Manager Terry Randolph and the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce last week. "We better get off it and do something about this 16th Section land or we're all going to be in a lot of trouble," Ladner explained. "I also want you all to pay that bill for our share of expenses for the conference," the board president added. In other business, at the 9 a.m. meeting at the youth court center, the board: —Accepted a low bid of $7,167 from Young Housemovers of Pass Christian to move five portable classrooms from Jackson County to HNC. An $8,000 bid was also received from Stinson Fence and Construction Co. of Bay St. Louis; —Accepted a $788 bid from Turan-Lane Chevrolet of Bay St. Louis for a new pickup truck engine. A $860 bid from Quality Auto Supply of Gulfport for a rebuilt engine was also received; —Approved releasing Dale and Julie Mayfield from the district to attend schools in the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District; —Approved recommendations from Charles B. Murphy Elementary School Principal J.D. Fenton and Superintendent of Education Billy D. Sills to employ Ethel C. Shell sales a 'possibility'

US-90 concrete plant eyes Bayou LaCroix site

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers has issued public notice of a permit request to relocate a Bay St. Louis concrete plant and possibly a shell operation to a Bayou LaCroix waterfront site.

Industrial Ready-Mix and Supplies Co., Inc. located on US-90 in Bay St. Louis plans to move to an approximate 5-acre site just northeast of the Hwy. 603 bridge over Bayou LaCroix.

The firm plans to place approximately 300 cubic yards of sandy-clay fill for construction of a portable concrete plant adjacent to Bayou LaCroix and an unnamed canal. The filling would cover an approximate 30-foot by 50-foot area of the swampy five-acre site.

When asked Wednesday morning if the proposed waterfront site would also facilitate the loading, unloading and storage of shell, Concrete Plant Manager Johnny Walker replied, "It's a possibility we will offer shell."

Cinque Bambini, Inc., an international firm based in Hancock County, plans to lease the proposed plant site to the concrete operation.

The Bay St. Louis law firm of Gex, Gex and Phillips is handling the permit application for Cinque Bambini.

The Corps notice offers citizens an opportunity to request a public hearing until Oct. 15.

"Any person who has an interest which may be adversely affected by the issuance of a permit may request a public hearing. The request must be submitted in writing to the district engineer within 30 days of the date of this notice and must clearly set forth the interest which may be adversely affected and the manner in which the interest may be adversely affected by the activity," the notice states.

Several months ago the Bay St. Louis concrete firm was the subject of a controversy at a city council meeting where merchants near the plant complained of dust blowing from the US-90 operation.

However, Walker reported, "As far as we are concerned we have all the permits necessary from the various government agencies."

Francis Stevens, assistant chief of the Regulatory Functions Branch said Tuesday in Mobile, "As of yet we don't have any requests for a hearing."

"Naturally, the notice period will be open until Oct. 15, but we don't have any comments from any agencies or individuals as of today," Stevens reported.

The Corps official said Gex, Gex and Phillips applied for the permit for its client.

Corps spokesman Ruby C. Britton said Wednesday the site would be approximately five acres.

When asked if there would be any difficulty in issuing a permit in the wetland area, Stevens replied, "Yes, there would be a problem. They are bringing in 300 cubic feet of fill."

"The U.S. Department of Interior, the Corps and several other agencies will have to approve the site before any permits are issued," Stevens explained.

"But when someone comes in with an application we have to process it to make a determination," he added.

The Corps notice also states, "Permits from state agencies, including water quality certification, if applicable, will be required before final action is taken concerning a Department of the Army permit."

"Evaluation of the probable impacts involving deposits of dredged or fill material into navigable waterways will include the application of guidelines established by the administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency," the notice says.

"Correspondence concerning this public notice should refer to Public Notice No. MS8000214C and should be directed to the District Engineer, U.S. Army Engineer District, Mobile, Corps of Engineers, P. O. Box 2288, Mobile, Ala. 36628, ATTN: Regulatory Functions Branch, in time to be received prior to Oct. 15, 1980," the notice reports.

SAVE IMPROVEMENT RECORDS

When you own your house for many years then decide to sell, there's no doubt about it, you'll probably make a large profit. If you cannot build or buy another home at or above the selling price of your older one, Uncle Sam will expect you to pay capital gains profit on the difference between the selling price and the original cost of your home.

One way to reduce this tax burden is to deduct from your profit the cost of any home improvements made during your ownership of the home. In case you are ever questioned by the IRS to authenticate these home improvements, you can expect them to ask you to produce records, bills or checks to prove that the work was done. If you own a home, it is essential that you maintain good books and records. Keep all checks related to home improvements and receipts bills, and keep them all in one place. The best thing you can purchase after buying a house is a good household ledger in which you enter your expenditures as the years go by. You'll be glad you did at tax time.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at PRESSMAN REALTY, 1332 Hwy. 90 W., Waveland. Phone 467-4224. We're here to help!

Ag Affairs

by Ed Blake

AG DIVERSITY MUST BE

In these modern times it would appear that no other major profession has the diversity of interests, skills and interdependencies as agriculture -- the leading industry of Mississippi and the nation.

This column, which on a regular weekly basis has followed the diverse theme of ag affairs in general for nearly five years, occasionally gets feedback from the media and public concerning this or that subject as responsive chords are struck.

So we do get letters, phone calls, notes, and head-on comments rather frequently concerning our diverse subject matter. Some commentators express favorable surprise that this farm organization is interested in this or that. Others occasionally object to our latitudes and let same be known.

Back in 1948 the late Frederick Sullens, prolific and outspoken editor of the JACKSON DAILY NEWS, was one of the first to publicly comment on Mississippi farmers' widening business interest. He opined in his daily column concerning the construction of a farmer-owned fertilizer manufacturing plant at Canton as well as a proposal for a life insurance company. He verbally smacked the farmers' hands for going beyond their traditional agrarian station in life to create new competitive businesses.

Since that demonstration several decades ago state farmers went on to build an extensive farmer cooperative system over the state with an impressive modern headquarters near Canton today. Too, they founded a life insurance company which this year dedicated Mississippi's largest one-company occupied office complex in Jackson as headquarters for a nine billion dollar corporation founded by Southern farmers to serve their needs.

Mississippi Chemical Corporation, a farmer-invested nitrogen fertilizer manufacturing plant next was built at Yazoo City and through ensuing years many other agricultural related manufacturing or processing facilities have been created to substantially contribute to this state's agriculturally based economy.

The same trend nationwide has brought to the American citizens an abundance of the world's least expensive food while lowering production costs to farmers and purchasing prices to consumers. The efficiency that has brought this about however has reduced the number of farmers needed in the nation.

As declining numbers of farmers have reduced their clout in the political arena, these farmers have realized that consumers, and the general public, need to know more about the public issues that affect their efficiency in producing food and fiber -- diverse as they may be.

This AG AFFAIRS column is to help communicate the intricate, often complex issues of agriculture to the readers of both weekly and daily newspapers of this state for the enlightenment and hoped for betterment of all. So, just in case you wondered, that's why this column covers a wide range of subjects -- sometimes meddling, occasionally poking a bit of fun at a situation, or passing on developments, troublesome or not.

And that is the bolt of fabric from which a lot of this state's agricultural affairs, and this namesake column, is cut.

State Weather Projection

Extra rain will wet crops and make fields harder to work. Problems will be especially great, because fall rains are more widespread and last longer than summer showers.

Rainfall combined with longer nights also may cause increased dew and fog. Warm temperatures will keep drying rates fairly high, however, giving harvesters one advantage.

Good effects could occur from extra rains as well. Extension Soybean Specialist Dr. Wayne Jordan says late soybeans will respond to moisture until the end of September. Fall pastures also would benefit from moisture received now. Warm temperatures will offset some benefits of increased water. Soybean irrigation may still be needed.

Poultry growers who have been plagued by hot weather should finally get some relief. Even though temperatures will remain above normal, they will soon start decreasing rapidly.

Bits 'n pieces

It is good to travel and see how other folks do things in comparison to how it is done at home.

We had a recent rude awakening — our communities are really filthy.

Many here have been saying so for a long time, but the fact really came home to us on a visit to the 50th state.

You would be amazed how clean Hawaii really is, and we visited four of the islands.

The Hawaiian people take pride in their communities.

There are no drink containers, paper, piles of trash alongside the roads, in peoples' yards or weeds and grass a foot high in yards.

It was a wonderful experience seeing there still are people who care about the place in which they live.

We have been told by friends and neighbors travelling to other nations that people keep their countries clean just like Hawaii.

We would like to see some of that clean thinking become the attitude of us who live in Hancock County.

It is hard to believe that Fall is already here with the mid-90 degree weather we have been having this week.

I know we all complained about the long cold winter, but the long hot summer has surpassed the winter in intensity.

We are a complaining society and a subject change would be welcomed by many.

It sure must be hard on the children in school to concentrate on home work with the weather so nice and warm after the bell rings.

The topic of conversation of many this week has been the overlay of Main Street in Bay St. Louis.

We have written many lines of copy on the work being on, then off, back and forth for many months.

It is now a reality and we are sure glad to see the much-needed repairs made.

We need not mention again the sorry condition of our roads in Bay St. Louis. All of us know that it is very hard to find a block of road without a torn out section.

Even if it does not feel like Fall, footballs will be flying through the air for the fourth consecutive Friday night involving the local teams.

The Bay High Tigers will be seeking their first victory of the season going against arch rival Pass Christian from across the Bay.

The Tigers could pull a big one with some strong support from hometown fans and the fact that the game will be played in Tiger stadium.

On the other side of the coin, Bob Lumpkin's Pirates will be trying to also get on the winning side, losing two games already.

Undefeated Stanislaus will get a stern test when they journey to visit the Slidell Tigers.

Slidell showed their Quad-A strength in last year's contest, so the Rock-A-Chaws will have to give their best performance of the entire season to bring back a victory from the Louisiana team.

The Hawks of Hancock North Central will also have to give a 100 percent plus in Hawk stadium going against undefeated Vancleave Friday.

The Hawks seem to be up for Vancleave and usually play one of their better games and we hope the stadium will be filled with fans to cheer them on to victory.

Those of you who have not had a chance to go to the Hancock County Fair should try and do so if you have a chance.

There seems to be much more offered this year than ever before.

Hundreds of entries have been made by local citizens in the many different categories offered. You would be surprised at the talents of our people.

The rides at the fair make it almost look like 'Pontchartrain Beach,' according to one citizen.

See you at the fair!

P.S. A reminder that the field day Friday morning will involve our school youth.

CONSUMER REPORT

Office of Bill Alcain,
Attorney General

Consumers need to be alert and informed about consumer issues and problems in the marketplace, and the Consumer Protection Division of the Attorney General's Office serves the consumer public by investigating and mediating complaints and by educating the public about consumer fraud. To help the division enforce the Consumer Fraud Act, consumers need to speak up when they feel they have not been treated fairly.

If you think that you have been treated unfairly or if you have a complaint, contact the Consumer Protection Division at P.O. Box 220, Jackson, MS 39205 and we will send you a complaint form to complete. You may drop by the division office at 414 North Street, Jackson.

The following are examples of who action the division may undertake on behalf of the consumer. The CPD:

-May investigate and mediate consumer complaints. We need to get both sides first;

-May take legal action against companies alleged to be engaging in unfair business practices;

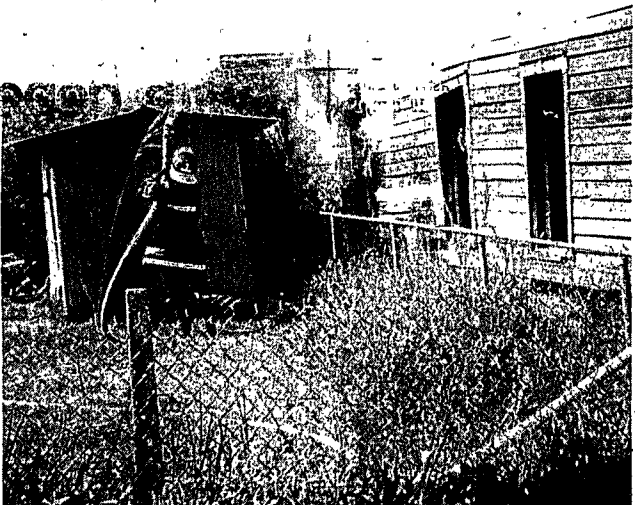

-Engages in a variety of consumer education programs and distributes consumer education material;

-Assists in the preparation of consumer protection legislation;

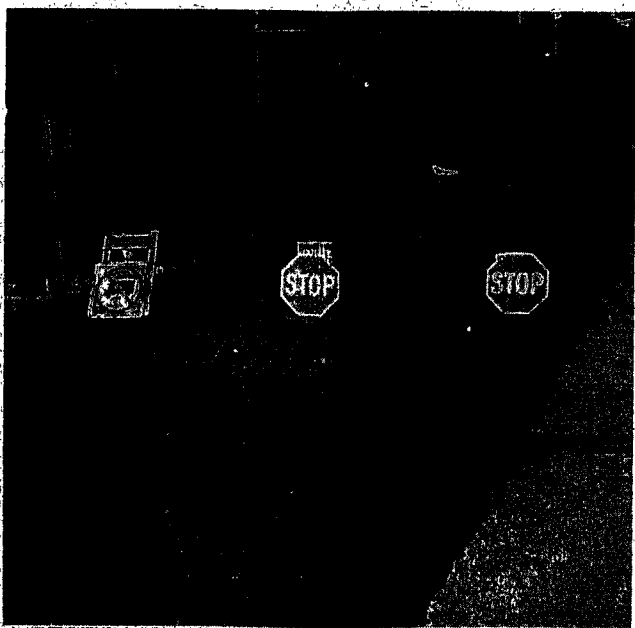

-Cooperates with local, state, and federal agencies.

DISGRACE TO DEAD! — Some person undoubtedly with nothing else to do overturned headstones and flower vases on 14 grave sites in St. Mary's Cemetery Friday night. Bay Chief Douglas Williams, left, and Investigator Matt Karl check the heavy head stone turned over on one of the graves Saturday morning. Police were notified of the vandalism by a person going to clean one of the graves. Chief Williams said an all out effort will be made to apprehend the culprits involved. Police would like anyone knowing anything about the incident to please give them a call. We feel it takes someone without any respect for anyone or anything to disturb the graves of the dead.

FIRE-TRAINING - Bay Fireman Arthur Farve hoses down building near house being burned for training purposes by the fire department. The house was owned by Mr. and Mrs. Willie D. Dunklin, 504 State Street and was beyond repair. Volunteers removed contents and roofing before the practice. A new home is planned for the Dunklin family through the efforts of the community. Geraldine Lang, spokeswoman for the Concerned Citizens is seeking aid from individuals and organizations to construct a new home. A bank account has been set up at Hancock Bank and numerous donations and materials are coming in with more needed. Mr. Dunklin is an amputee and his wife is unable to work. Those wishing to help can call Mrs. Lang at 467-9586. Bay Fire Chief Andrew Lizana received permission from adjoining neighbors and the owners in order to use the structure, not worth repairing for a fire training exercise. Among firemen participating were Capt. Mike Willumits, training officer; Farve, Marty Blackstock, Billy Field, Gary Maurice, Cliff Burch and Volunteer Fireman Terry McCary.

PEOPLE DO NOT READ SIGNS - Billy Johnson, Bay St. Louis superintendent, reports that workers are having a hard time trying to resurface streets even though they are marked with several signs. There are numerous streets in Bay St. Louis needing repairs, and we feel the public instead of just complaining, should try and cooperate by staying out of the way of workers when the streets are blocked.

News from the governor's office

Governor William Winter last week joined eight fellow Southern Governors in asking the federal government to provide emergency assistance to farmers in Mississippi and other drought-stricken Southern states.

Winter, attending the Southern Governors' Association in Williamsburg, VA., pushed for adoption of the resolution which calls on federal officials to help Southern Farmers overcome adverse economic conditions resulting from the drought.

The resolution asks the Secretary of Agriculture to "urge the state directors of the Farmers Home Administration in affected states to explore all options including deferral of principal and interest payments to assist impacted farmers."

The resolution also asks the administration of the Small Business Administration "to urge district directors of the Small Business Administration in affected states to explore modification of the terms of outstanding S.B.A. loans to farmers adversely affected by the drought."

The resolution asks private lenders to work with farmers to cushion the adverse impact of this year's drought, and asks the Secretary of Agriculture and the Congress to explore a means of providing low-interest and no-interest loans to qualified farmers in amounts equal to the difference in value between their average proven yields and their actual yields.

The resolution also includes several other provisions which would be beneficial to farmers.

"The drought conditions which we experienced this year have been devastating to many of our farmers," Winter said of the requests. "In joining with my fellow Southern Governors in making this request, I am asking that the federal government join us at the state level in seeing that our state's entire economy is not adversely affected by these conditions in our farming industry."

About 64 percent of the farms in 79 Mississippi counties were affected by drought conditions, the result of a lengthy heat wave which struck much of the South this summer.

Winter met Friday, September 12 with U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland, who toured portions of the Mississippi Delta to inspect crop damage from drought conditions. Winter said he believes Bergland's visit to the state shows "genuine interest on the part of our present national leaders in seeing that Mississippi and other Southern states do not suffer from the drought conditions any more than absolutely necessary."

HARTFORD FINDS UNIQUE TAX SOLUTION

This is the story of how a city on a tight budget, with hundreds of property owners who are unable to pay their taxes, collect those tax bills. Putting liens on the domiciles of the elderly, retired and handicapped didn't seem like the way to go for the City Council in Hartford, Connecticut. So they came up with a better idea: The In-Kind Services Program.

Qualifying residents pay off their property tax debt by working for the city. To qualify, a homeowner must be retired, unemployed or have a property tax bill that exceeds ten percent of income.

So far, some 350 Hartford citizens have paid off more than $175,000 in debt to the city, at a minimal cost to Hartford. David Hargreaves, an administrative analyst for the city, heads the program. The only cost is for the administration of the program, and he estimates that to be about one-fourth of its salary.

"The people in the In-Kind Services Program are highly motivated, proud individuals who exemplify the 'work ethic' and want to feel accepted," Hargreaves says. "They require little supervision or training, have a desire to perform and are almost always on time."

One participant in the program, an 80-year-old widow, is a wheelchair. She's on her way to paying $5,000 in back taxes, processing parking tickets at City Hall.

Hargreaves insists that none of the hundred or so current "clients" of the program is replacing a regular city worker. "These people are paid $3.30 to $4.80 an hour, depending on their skills, to do things the city could not afford to do otherwise," he said. "Sometimes it's as simple as catching up on back filing or other time-consuming work."

The City of Hartford does not pay wages directly to the participants, they are credited against the tax bills. "Therefore," Hargreaves observes, "the program does not increase the buying power of the people involved, but it does allow them to use money owed for taxes to improve their homes, buy a few clothes or even put more food on the table."

Because the Hartford solution seems so obvious, it is logical to wonder how many other cities have tried something similar. "Right now we're the only city in the nation that's doing this," Hargreaves said, "but I have had inquiries from municipalities in every section of the country, including Detroit. New York state is enthusiastic about it and the legislature will probably act to enable communities there to start similar programs. Washington, D.C. is considering the idea, and there are growing signs that California may adopt it too. I tell anyone that calls, if they want to start a program, I'll make myself available."

Hancock highway crashes claim 4

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Accidents claimed the lives of four persons Sunday on Hancock County Highways, according to Sheriff Ronald Peterson.

Huynh Van Tran, 54, 4831 Palace Street, New Orleans, died about 8 p.m. Sunday at Gulfport Memorial Hospital after he was struck by a car on the Bay Bridge at 2 p.m.

Huynh was reportedly changing a tire on the bridge when a car driven by Mrs. Georgine Spencer, 80, Pass Christian struck his vehicle forcing the car into Huynh, Highway Patrol officers say.

Hancock Deputy Marc Ohman and Bay police also responded to the accident. Huynh was taken to Memorial by Mobile Medic.

Traffic was held up on the bridge for some time while the accident was cleared and the Bay fire department washed down gas on the bridge from the accident.

Hancock Deputies David Garcia and Clinton Dedieux were on a routine patrol travelling East from Pearllington to Kila on 7-10 when they came upon an accident involving motorcycles and a car, according to Peterson.

Ulysses LaBouef, 33, Rt. 3, Pass Christian and Janice Sparkman McCall, 30, 2616 Avenue G, Gulfport were killed when their motorcycles collided with a car driven by Gregory Paul Cleveland, 21, Grand Bay, Ala.

Rodney Clay McCall Jr., son of Mrs. McCall, was seriously injured in the accident and died Tuesday in Gulfport Memorial Hospital. The youth was a passenger on the motorcycle driven by his mother, according to police.

Peterson said another death in Hancock County Sunday was ruled the result of a self-inflicted gunshot after an inquest was held by Coroner Carl Banderet.

Andrew Porter Willis, 22, General Delivery, Pearllington, was pronounced dead on arrival at Hancock General about 8 p.m. from gunshot wounds in his chest, according to the sheriff.

Deputies A.J. Cuevas and Willie Lee answered the call with Investigator Delbert Seay in charge of the case.

Investigators Seay and Alvin Ladner are checking the robbery of a Pass Christian man who was shot in his shoulder, according to Peterson.

John Munson, 26, Pass Christian, told officers that his car was flagged down by a young man on Highway 604, Pearllington, about 7 a.m. while he was on his way to work at the Hancock Port and Harbor.

Peterson said the man said that he was approached by the young man who pulled a blue steel revolver and robbed him of $600 in cash and shot Munson in the left shoulder.

Munson then drove as far as the Louisiana line and stopped at a service station to report the robbery. Munson was taken to a hospital for treatment. Deputies Dennis Tartavoule and Glenn Strong checked out the robbery.

In another matter, Investigator Seay reports he had received a call from another BaySide resident Wednesday reporting the shooting of another dog in the subdivision.

This makes a total of six dogs which have been killed in BaySide Park and Seay states he is still investigating the dog shootings.

GAYNEL GEX BILLUPS of Pass Christian has been named a special representative dealing exclusively in mutual funds, annuities and tax shelters in the Gulfport office of Howard, Well, Labouisse, Friedrichs Inc., investment securities. Mrs. Billups has resided in Pass Christian for 10 years. Her husband, Guy Billups Jr., is Chairman of the Board of the Merchants Bank and Trust Company, Gulfport. They are parents of five children. Mrs. Billups received her BA degree from Southeastern Louisiana University in Hammond in 1970. She is an active member of Pass Christian Yacht Club, Gulfport Yacht Club, Pass Christian Isles Golf Club, and Diamondhead Country Club.

Hancock Lung group elects new officers

The Hancock County Chapter of the Mississippi Lung Association has named its 1980-81 officers. Elda Duke will serve as chairman to direct programs of education, service and fund-raising in the local area. Other volunteer leaders are Erskine Skelton, Selma George and Grace Jones.

"We Care About Every Breath You Take" is more than just a campaign phrase to members of the local lung chapter. "We are actively working for better lung health for all Mississippians through programs of patient service, public information, medical education and research," Duke said.

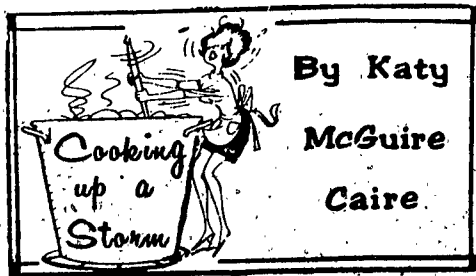

"Your local lung chapter is concerned with the continuation and expansion of all phases of Mississippi Lung Association work," Duke said. "Projects include extensive education programs and service, emergency patient assistance, support of the Christmas Seal Professorship of Respiratory Disease at the University Medical Center, support of medical research investigations, provision of fellowships for advanced medical education, provision of school programs and films, co-operation with TB control programs and many more 'life and breath' activities," she explained.

"Volunteers play an important role in implementing these extensive programs to protect the lung health of all Mississippians," Duke added. For further information concerning service and programs contact any member of the local lung chapter or direct inquiries to the Mississippi Lung Association, 353 N. Mart Plaza, P.O. Box 9865, Jackson, MS 39206.

Calf's liver, one of the most delicate of meats, is a much-maligned food, so often served shoe-leather brown and hard, masked in masses of onions and gravy.

But cooked in a little different fashion, calf's liver is a most delectable dish and a boon to dieters as well with its low calorie content.

Hancock School District continues child search

Programs Coordinator Harlin Hill of the Hancock County School District reports some five handicapped children have been located for a special pre-schoolers class.

Hill said a minimum of five children must be enrolled to implement the class, adding the district is continuing its effort to identify, locate, and evaluate children ages 3, 4 and 5 who are physically, mentally, communicatively, and/or emotionally handicapped.

"Early identification of children in need of special educational experiences is most important to each child," said Hill.

"A pre-school handicapped class for 3, 4, and 5-year-olds will begin immediately in the district as soon as we have enough children identified for the program," Hill added.

Information which could identify an individual child will be maintained by the district and will be provided to other agencies only in accord with the Family Rights and Privacy Act and EHA-B, the official said.

"As a parent, you are guaranteed the right to inspect any such information about your child and to challenge its accuracy. Access to this information is forbidden to any unauthorized person without informed consent," Hill assured.

"If you have questions regarding the collection, maintenance, and use of data about your child or if you have questions regarding the pre-school handicapped class, please contact me by calling 467-4466 or writing to P. O. Box 269, Bay St. Louis, 39520," Hill urged.

One of the simplest methods is to saute the slices of liver in butter or margarine, season to your taste, then remove to a warm platter, and squish white wine over the pan drippings, then pour the sauce over the liver, sprinkle with parsley and serve.

One of my favorite dishes is Liver Julienne—thin strips of liver in a creamy wine-accented sauce. Here's LIVER JULIENNE

1 lb. calf's liver
Flour, salt and pepper to your taste
2 tbs. olive oil
2 tbs. butter
1/2 cup dry white wine
1/2 cup sour cream
1 clover chopped garlic
2 tbs. snipped parsley
Cut the liver into thin slices, then cut into narrow strips, about half-inch wide. Coat with flour and season with salt and pepper. Heat the oil and butter together in a heavy skillet, saute the garlic, then add the strips of liver and cook quickly as the wind-till brown on both sides.

This takes only a moment or so, faster than I can tell you about it.

Remove the liver to a warm platter; splash white wine into the pan, and add parsley while shaking the pan about so, the wine picks up all the good pan juices. Stir the sour cream into the pan—but don't let it boil or the cream will curdle! Taste, correct seasoning if necessary.

Return the liver to the pan, folding well into the sauce. Serve with buttered noodles or rice. (serves four).

Oyster tonging season opening slated Oct. 15

By EDGAR PEREZ

The Mississippi Bureau of Marine Resources this week reported eight areas will be opened to oyster tonging at sunrise Wednesday, Oct. 15.

Among the eight are the Bay St. Louis reef between L&N Railroad and US-90 Bridges, St. Stanislaus reef and the Waveland reef.

Other reefs to be opened to tonging Oct. 15 include White House in Biloxi (following Health Department certification); Bayou Cambest, Bangs Lake Heron Bayou and Rigole reefs, all in Jackson County.

The bureau said possession limits will be announced later.

Also this week, the bureau reports the St. Stanislaus and Waveland reefs and those between the bridges in Bay St. Louis 'show good set of spats' on clam shells planted during the previous year.

The bureau planted some 87,000 cubic yards of clam shells on eight reefs between September, 1979 and June, 1980.

Five of those have been checked for success of the program, including Long Beach and White House reefs which show 'excellent sets,' the bureau reported.

Based on oyster growth and survival rates, the oysters should be of harvestable size in 1981 or 1982.

The BMR said damage to the Pass Christian reef which resulted when an off-course barge ran aground on the reef Sept. 5 is still being assessed by bureau and Gulf Coast Research Laboratory personnel.

After assessing the damage, the cost of restoration will be estimated and BMR will consult with the Attorney General concerning further action toward recovery of costs, a bureau spokesman explained.

The damaged reef area one mile south of Pass Christian Harbor is a navigation hazard and should be avoided.

The bureau said processed oyster shells are being picked up by BMR from factories and will be stockpiled all winter in preparation for spring and summer transfer to public reefs.

The bureau also reported it has finalized a subgrant agreement for Coastal Energy Impact Program funds, including a $23,000 Pass Christian Harbor planning project.

The National Marine Fisheries Service has awarded a $184,000 grant to the bureau to monitor and assess condition of penaeid shrimp stocks in the Mississippi Sound.

The information will be used in projecting opening date of the shrimp season.

Preliminary reports indicate white shrimp have begun to move into open areas and catches are expected to increase throughout the fall, perhaps offsetting the poor summer harvest of brown shrimp.

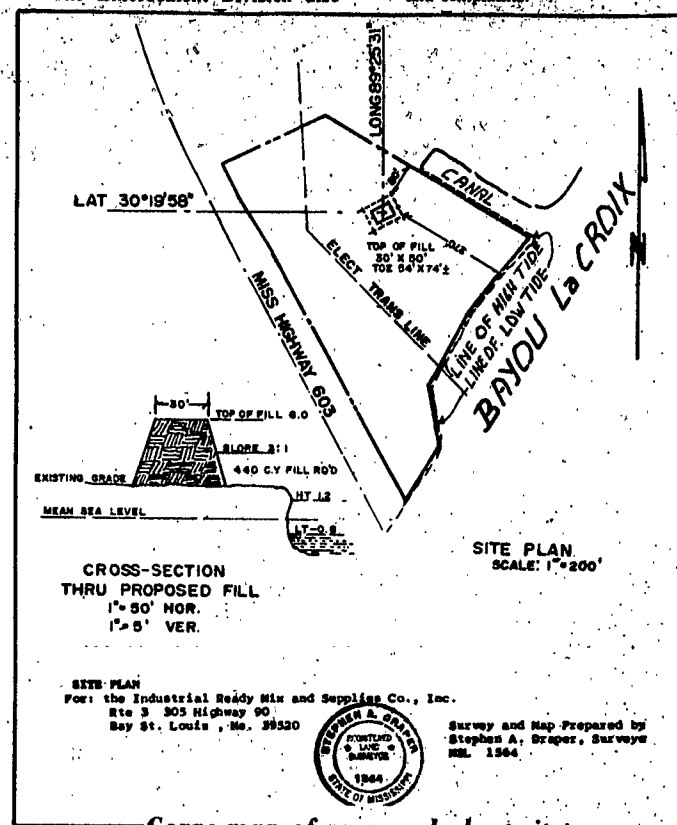

The bureau also reported this week the Mississippi Commission on Wildlife Conservation took action on six wetlands permits applications at its Sept. 16 meeting in Jackson, including approval of a permit for Marine Concrete Structures to perform maintenance dredging in front of its graving dock in the Port Blenville Industrial Park near Pearlinton.

Bureau enforcement statistics for August showed 37 arrests were made in connection with violations of seafood and live bait laws and boat and water safety regulations.

The Enforcement Division also reported responding to 73 incidents, including missing persons, accidents and complaints.

Concerned Citizens disclaim affiliation

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Distribution of letters throughout the community attributed to a recently formed Citizens Committee for a Better City Government has been disclaimed by the chartered group, The Concerned Citizens of Hancock County, according to Gerry Lang, spokesman for that group.

Ms. Lang stated, "Any complaint our organization has about any governmental agency, or political leader has either my signature or that of our president, Rev. Johnny Sauder."

"Our chartered organization does not distribute unsigned literature," Ms. Lang emphasized.

The Concerned Citizens of Hancock County received its charter in early 1979 after the group voted to incorporate at a meeting held on January 31, 1979.

Ms. Lang added, "We are for the improvement of our communities and well being of our citizens. Our organization was not formed to criticize our officials, but to help them make this a better place to live."

Rev. Sauder, who was contacted Wednesday, commented, "The Concerned Citizens of Hancock County is not a political group in anyway. We deal strictly with the concern of the community for all of the citizens of the county. We are for the upgrading of Hancock County."

The purpose of the Concerned Citizens of Hancock County is stated in their charter which reads:

"To promote the awareness and involvement of the citizens of Hancock County, Mississippi, in the functions and operations of the Municipal and County Governments. In the pursuit of this purpose, the Corporation will:

"(a) Encourage Public Forum.
"(b) Perform limited research regarding local issues.

"(c) Disseminate information that would appear valuable to the community as a whole, and in particular to the membership.

"(d) Actively encourage efficiency and honesty in the management of governmental functions.

"(e) Support Municipal and County projects and programs that are well planned and designed to satisfy specific needs of the citizens of Hancock County, Mississippi."

County officials report

Local influenza vaccine limited

The Hancock County Health Department has received a limited supply of influenza vaccine for this year's 'minimal' influenza vaccination program.

County Health Officer Dr. Martha Hays reported, "We only have enough vaccine for 400 shots for Hancock County residents. These vaccinations will be given on a first come first serve basis beginning Oct. 2."

"These shots will be available, beginning Oct. 2 Monday mornings and all day on Thursday," she added.

Dr. Durward Blakey, chief of the Bureau of Disease Control, State Board of Health, said this year's allocation of flu vaccine is only about two-thirds of the amount given in Mississippi last year.

Because supplies are limited, public health officials recommend that senior citizens and those who have heart trouble, lung disease, kidney disease, diabetes, anemia, or other chronic illness be inoculated first.

"Protecting this 'high risk population' will help to protect others from the contagious, virus-caused respiratory disease," Hays stated.

"Influenza outbreaks are most common in the fall and winter; so people in the high risk group should get vaccinations in the early fall," Blakey said.

"Those in the high risk group should contact their private physicians or county health departments for influenza immunization," he added.

Hancock Library System reports ten new titles

COMPILED BY SHERRY SCHWABACHER
The following books are now available at any branch of the Hancock County Library System:

ANIMAL DAYS by Desmond Morris (Author of THE NAKED APE). A funny, affectionate and often startling tale of a scientist's intimate association with creatures who remain unpredictable to the end. A fascinating memoir by the long-time Curator of Mammals at the London Zoo.

THUNDER ON THE RIGHT by Alan Crawford. Subtitled THE NEW RIGHT AND THE POLITICS OF RESENTMENT, Crawford contends that the traditional conservative heritage, which conserves laws, institutions and evolutionary due process, is being distorted into a lawless, rabble-rousing populism of the revolutionary Right.

ANCIENT EGYPTIAN MAGIC by Bob Brier. For everyone interested in parapsychology and the occult... magical spells, incantations, potions, short stories, and rituals that dominated the lives of ancient Egyptians.

CONSUMING PASSIONS: THE ANTHROPOLOGY OF EATING by Peter Farb and George Armelagos. How people eat reveals to an astonishing degree all of the other qualities of their society. An essential informative work about humanity's most basic preoccupation.

RECONSTRUCTING APHRA by Angeline Goreay. Three hundred years ago Aphra Behn became the first woman in England to earn her living by the pen, at a time when few women writers even dared to publish under their own names. After her death in 1689, she disappeared into obscurity, only to resurface in this brilliant recreation of a life more exciting than any fiction.

BRAIN 2000 by Ernest K. Gann. A 16-year-old math genius develops a spinning top theory and discovers that the earth is about to go out of orbit. Convinced he has the solution to the problem, he sets out to see the President of the United States. A delightfully fresh, suspenseful, and heartwarming international comedy.

PRISONER OF THE DEVIL by Michael Hardwick. Sherlock Holmes is personally requested by Queen Victoria to investigate the Alfred Dreyfus case - a command which sends the great detective on a perilous voyage to Devil's Island to meet his client, to a bizarre encounter with the supernatural, and headlong into the most challenging and politically-sensitive case of his career.

PORT OF SAINTS by William S. Burroughs (Author of NAKED LUNCH). The mindboggling story of a man whose alternate selves take him on a fantastic journey through space, time, and sexuality.

BILLIONS by Ian Kennedy Martin. What if Howard Hughes, as his final, most daring business exploit, had set his sights on the purchase of a country, Nicaragua, for three billion dollars. An enthralling and intricate novel.

A WOULD BE SAINT by Robin Jenkins. A wise, remarkably sensitive and well-written treatment of a theme which compels the reader to think hard about idealism and its opposing forces.

Small business tax workshop set at JD

A two-session workshop on practical tax matters of concern to small business owners is scheduled in Gulfport October 7 and 8.

Participants will meet from 7 to 10 p.m. in Room 110-D of the Gulf Coast Junior College's Jefferson Davis campus.

The class is sponsored by the U.S. Small Business Administration, General Business Service, and the Mississippi Research and Development Center.

"The workshop is designed to help participants acquire an increased awareness of tax matters in order to work more carefully and effectively with the business and tax counselor," according to George McFarland of the R & D Center. McFarland is an instructor in the workshop.

"The workshop," said McFarland, "will alert the small business person to ways of saving tax dollars and will focus primarily on federal taxes. It is designed principally for sole proprietors, partnerships, and small corporations.

"The burden of paper work and the need to be tax wise in business is constantly growing," McFarland noted. "Doing the job right is a requirement, not an option. And to do it right often requires a team effort between the business person and the business counselor."

Enrollment in the workshop is limited to the first 40 registrants. The fee of $15 includes instruction and workshop materials.

Among topics to be discussed are "Frequently Missed Deductions," "Year-End Tax Strategies," "Should You Lease or Purchase Equipment?" and "Are You Wasting Your Money?"

Those interested in registering for the workshop should contact Marie Dean or Isabelle Bishop of the R & D Center's Gulf Coast Field Office, telephone 864-3302.

Seabee command change at Gulfport

The ceremony, which will see Capt. Donald L. Conner relieve Capt. John C. Fraser Jr., will be held at Naval Construction Battalion Center, Gulfport on Thursday, Oct. 2 beginning at 9 a.m. on the Center's parade field.

Capt. Fraser, who has been commander of the Atlantic Fleet Seabees since May 1978, will assume command of the Public Works Center at Norfolk.

Capt. Conner will begin his new assignment following a two year tour as resident officer in charge of construction, Trident.

Capt. Conner is a former commanding officer of Gulfport-based Naval Mobile Construction Battalion 62.

Lagos gains tko in Ocean Springs

By EDGAR PEREZ
Three Bay-Kin-Waveland Boxing Club fighters saw action on a 20-bout card in Ocean Springs Saturday, with Fredman (Mighty Mouse) Lagos taking a first-round, TKO victory.

The referee stopped the fight after Lagos twice floored his opponent, Vincent Husley of Biloxi.

Watts looked strong in the second round when the bell saved his opponent from hard right and left combinations, the coach reported.

Vincent Santalla lost a close decision to Chris Brauman of Ocean Springs.

Fighting under the banner of the Hancock Boxing Club, 88-pound David Bennett, 12, of Pearlington looked real good in the ring for his first bout, according to Hancock Coach Harvey Mitchell.

Bennett lost his debut encounter to Jimmy Sykes of Mobile, Ala.

BKW fighters Brian Watts, Under-dog Whisenhunt, Dale Watts and Chris Whisenhunt were unable to get matches in Ocean Springs.

Rudy Escoban of Bay St. Louis and Tex Watts of Waveland served as judge and timekeeper, respectively, in Ocean Springs.

They will also judge BKW's first home engagement of the current season at Hancock County Fairgrounds Exhibit Hall Saturday, Oct. 4.

Ringside physician for the Fairgrounds events will be Dr. M. J. Wolfe Sr. of Bay St. Louis.

Ringside coach in Ocean Springs for BKW was Robert Padilla.

The local pugilists this week will participate in a 7 p.m., 20-bout event at International Plaza in Biloxi Saturday night.

Goodman eyes pro carrer in boxing

By EDGAR PEREZ
Destined for a professional boxing debut Saturday, Oct. 4 in the Mississippi Coast Coliseum, 156-pound Joe Louis Goodman of Pearlington lost a close decision to a national amateur champion in Ocean Springs Saturday night.

Goodman opened a cut under the eye of Sylvester White of Sauder in the second round of the middleweight event, but was unable to bring the champion down.

"Joe is in very fine shape for the start of his pro career," said Hancock Boxing Club Coach Harvey Mitchell. "He is taking a 22-win-2-loss amateur record with him," Mitchell noted.

Goodman will face Mike Byrde who took the lightweight championship in King of The Hill action at the Coliseum last month.

"We hope to move around the pro circuit after Joe's second pro fight in Memphis Oct. 14," Mitchell continued.

"Joe has a real good future in the fight game today in the middleweight division," Mitchell feels.

Mitchell said 'telescope' tickets are available for the Oct. 4 Coliseum King of The Hill matches at $8 each by calling 467-4721 or from the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post in Bay St. Louis.

SSC steps up in class against AAAA Slidell

By RANDY PONDER
The St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws will travel to Slidell, La. Friday night to do battle with the tough quad A Tigers. Head coach Barry Jones has had his team working extra sessions this week, getting ready for what promises to be a hardhitting ball game.

"We've gone back to the fundamentals and have been working on the basics," commented Coach Jones.

"This is probably the largest team we'll play all year. They average 210 on the line," Jones added.

Thus far the Rock's are undefeated, having scored a total of 73 points and giving up only 20.

"I feel like this will be a low scoring defensive ball game," Jones said.

"The Tigers use the wishbone and run straight at you. They're a very large ballclub."

Last week, quarterback Joe Gex was taken out of the game with a knee injury, but according to Jones, "Joe is ready to play."

Gex will play, but Sean Logan won't. The fleet-footed half-back is side lined with a knee ailment.

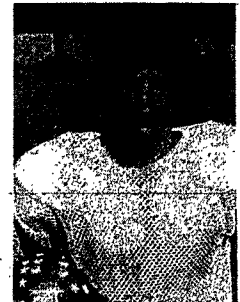

Tackle George Corcoran is also a question mark. He could see some action.

Slidell boasts a 2-1 record. Their only defeat was at the hands of perennial powerhouse, Covington last week, 14-3.

"We won't be at full speed, but hopefully adversity will bring out the best in us," the Rock-A-Chaw head coach said.

"If we get a few breaks, maybe we can kick a field goal or a touchdown and come out ahead."

Game time is 7:30 p.m.

POINTS-A-PLenty - These three St. Stanislaus players represent a lot of fire power. Quarterback Joe Gex, left, has rushed for two touchdowns, full-back Mike Houria has crossed the goal line four times, and Juan Betanzos has booted one field goal and eight extra point conversions. Not pictured is Sean Logan who is out with a knee injury. Logan has three touchdowns. (Staff Photo - Randy Ponder)

Hawks face biggest test against Vancleave Friday

By ELLIS CUEVAS
The Hancock North Central Hawks will face their strongest test Friday night when they vie with Vancleave in Hawk stadium.

Vancleave's record is 3-0 in the strong Pascagoula River Conference with control over the top ranking. The Hawks are 2-1 and are fresh from a hard fought victory over arch rival Bay High last week.

Head Coach Irvin Favre said, in commenting on Vancleave, "We have never defeated Vancleave in the ten years I have been at Hancock and we always give them a good game. Unless we really come to play Friday night, we will be run out of the stadium."

The Hawks took a physical beating in their 22-11 victory over the fighting Tigers of Bay High last Friday.

Favre said several of his players are nursing bruises and pulled muscles from the contest.

Favre stated, "I have several players with bruises and muscle pulls and I hope they will be ready at 100 percent for Vancleave. We will need everyone in tip top shape. It will take a super effort by the Hawks to defeat Vancleave."

Favre added, "You know fan support plays an important part in a team's effort and I hope to see the stands full of Hawk supporters for the 7:30 p.m. kick-off."

In recent years, the Hawks have played well against Vancleave, but they have never topped them in scoring and Favre is looking for Hancock's first victory over the Pascagoula Conference leader.

SEA COAST ECHO-THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 25, 1980-1B

Depreo to captain Wildcats against Hinds Eagles tonight

Pearl River College's head coach, J.C. Arban, put in the wishbone offense last week and the end result was a 51-7 blasting of the Coahoma Tigers.

Arban says he realizes that the Tigers are not one of the stronger teams in the league this year, however, he still insists that the Wildcats' performance last Saturday night was the beginning of much better things to come.

"We ran hard, cut well and did a very good job blocking," said Arban about his offense, which had netted only one touchdown during the two previous games.

Arban changed his offensive set from the veer to the wishbone after the Jones Bobcats completely stymied the 'Cat attack.

"I decided we had to do something," Arban said, "so I just expanded our goal line offense from about four plays to a dozen or more."

"The best thing we got from the game against the Tigers, other than the win, was confidence that our offense can run the ball and we can score," Arban said.

"I think our men believe they can play football," Arban said. But, believing and actually proving the Wildcats are truly south division contenders will come Thursday night against the Hinds Junior College Eagles.

The Eagles, 'an also ran', year after year, have put together a huge football team that has two wins out of three starts and is undefeated in the south.

"We knew they would be tough this year," Arban said, "because they seem to have the winning attitude and the desire to be successful."

The Eagles are considered the largest team in the league. The offensive unit averages 252 pounds and that's including a little 200 pound center. The defense is the same magnitude including linebackers Arthur Nurse (240) and Jason Marshall (238).

"We'll have our hands full," Arban said, we must execute or the ride back from Raymond Thursday night will be extra long."

Last year the Wildcats squeaked by 13-9 in Poplarville and the victory extended the Pearl River winning streak to five consecutive years.

"Hinds is certainly a contender," Arban said, "everyone will have to reckon with them this year."

Captains for this week's contest will include David Depreo, offensive guard, Bay St. Louis; Keith Courtney, defensive back, Piquette; and Billy Bounds, defensive tackle, Petal.

Last week's outstanding players included running back Anthony Patterson, of Piquette; Oscar Craft, center, from Sunnall; David Dearman, Linebacker, Hattiesburg, and Mark Wesley, defensive end of Oak Grove.

LINEMEN BATTLE—Bay Senior High School Tiger defensive linemen tangle with the Hancock North Central Hawk offensive squad during their football match Friday night in Tiger Stadium. Battling for yardage are, from left, Tiger Fullback Van Fayard and Running Back Walter Ross, an unidentified Hawk offensiveman, Hawk Halfback Faron Hoda, and Tiger Tackle Tony Fisher. Bay High will meet the Pass Christian

High School Pirates in a football contest at 7:30 p.m. Friday in Pass Christian. The Tigers have a 1-2 record and the Pirates are 0-2. The Hawks will play the Vancleave High School Bulldogs at 7:30 p.m. Friday night at HNC Stadium. North Central has a 2-1 record and the Bulldogs are 3-0. (Staff photo by Wayne DuComb Jr.)

Golden Eagles to occupy prime time Saturday night

Final approval has been given by the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) for the University of Southern Mississippi to telecast next Saturday's USM-East Carolina Football game from Greenville, N.C.

The game will be aired over WLOX-TV, Channel 13, Biloxi-Gulfport-Pascagoula. The telecast will begin at 5:45 p.m. (CDT), with the kickoff set for 6 p.m.

WLOX-TV has a viewing area extending to the McComb vicinity on the west, the Laurel area to the north and the Alabama line and the entire Gulf Coast vicinity on the east and south, respectively.

Production plans and commercial sales have been in progress for the past three months. USM - Public Relations-USM Sports is in charge of the telecast and a production unit from WITN-TV in Washington, N.C., has been engaged.

The producer for the telecast will be William E. Kirkpatrick, USM's director of public relations. The production coordinator will be Bob Field of the PR staff, and the field coordinator and production assistant will be Steve Mims and Don Stamps, respectively.

Mims and Stamps are USM students majoring in radio-TV. Bill Goodrich and Vic Purvis, who normally handle the USM radio-broadcast, will do the play-by-play and "color," respectively. For this game only, assistant sports information director John Cox will handle the play-by-play duties on radio and the analyst will be Dick Strimel, a senior engineer in USM Electronics.

This telecast will mark the thirdtime USM has aired road games live in the home area. Two games were telecast in 1979.

"We feel we will be viewed by an audience of more than 100,000 for this telecast," Kirkpatrick said. "WLOX-TV covers a good part of south Mississippi, we are in prime time on a Saturday night and Golden Eagle football is exciting to watch."

Commercial spots for the game have been sold throughout south Mississippi, and, according to Kirkpatrick, only a few remain to be sold.

Four Echo football contestants pick 12

Ms. Melanie Seal of Piquette won first place in this week's Echo football contest.

Seal picked all 12 games correctly and hit the tie breaker right on the money at 33 points.

Nicholas Haas Jr. of Bay St. Louis captured second place. Haas also picked all twelve games correctly, but was edged out on the tie-breaker.

Taren Breland of Pearlington and Roland Gallivan of Waveland matched Seal and Haas on correct guesses, but were off on the tie breaker game of Hancock North Central vs. Bay High. The Echo also received five entries which missed only one game. They were Lonnie Bradley of Bay St. Louis, Mark Ladner of Pass Christian, Vicki LaFontaine, Gigi Staehle, and Charlie Staehle, all of Bay St. Louis.

HOMING INSTINCT

Most anglers who regularly fish a particular body of water have had the experience of catching a fish time and again from almost the same place.

Some anglers may wonder whether a released fish returns to its original home.

Perhaps the answer may be found in some information that recently came to the attention of Mercury outdoors' fishing department.

It seems that some southwest fisheries biologists were sampling a lake to determine the mix of rough and game fish, and the size and age of fish living in the lake.

In the process of taking a sample, they trapped some fish and moved them a considerable distance away where they were placed in a holding pen to be studied later.

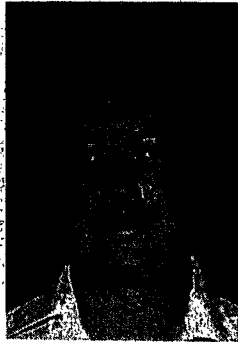

One of the fish was a large bluegill that was tagged and kept for examination.

Somehow, the bluegill escaped from the holding pen. Its absence was noted by the biologists when they cleared the pen of all fish.

Ole Miss offensive line preps for Tulane Saturday

It's what's up front that counts. And Ole Miss running backs will quickly point that out when it comes to accounting for their success.

And certainly with an offensive line dominated by seniors with experience, what's up front really does count.

Behind the Rebel offensive line, Ole Miss backs have been able to score 116 points while rushing for an average of 224 yards and passing for 220 more.

But even with that performance, sophomore quick tackle Pat Phenix sees room for improvement.

"We need to work harder to get our running game established," the Worcester, Mass., native said. "We're blocking and coming off the ball, but we're just not doing it well enough."

In addition to Phenix, who is a 6-5, 255-pounder, the Rebel offensive line features Mark Moore, a 6-7, 283-pounder at strong tackle; Cool Russell, a 6-2, 236-pounder at center; Chris Cottain, a 6-2, 240-pounder at quick guard; and Chuck Comiskey, a 6-5, 268-pounder at strong guard.

All are seniors with the exception of Phenix, the lone sophomore on the line. But the upperclassmen are dividing playing time with younger players, much like last year when the Rebels used two offensive lines during the season.

"A lot of younger guys are getting to play," Phenix said. "and that's really good. It gives them a chance to get some experience and gives the starters some time to rest during the game."

Phenix, who is an extremely agile lineman, is also a tough aggressive player. He's been clocked at 4.8 in the 40 to rate as the fastest offensive lineman on the Rebel squad. He played both defensive tackle and center as a prepster and was named as his team's top lineman both his junior and senior seasons. He earned a letter with Ole Miss his freshman year, alternating playing time last season in the offensive line with starters.

"There's a lot of improvement for me to make as an offensive lineman," Phenix admitted, "and I hope that I am getting better every week. I feel like I can play a lot better."

Phenix and the Rebels get their next chance this Saturday in Oxford, hosting the Tulane Green Wave at Hemingway Stadium with kickoff slated at 1:30 p.m.

The game will be broadcast later by ESPN Sports Network on Hancock Community Cable at 1 p.m. Monday and again at 3 p.m. Tuesday.

OUTSTANDING WORKERS—Robert W. Smith, Hancock County supervisor for the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Farmers Home Administration, presents certificates of merit to Margaret C. Prevon, left, of Bay St. Louis for 'outstanding work performance as a county office assistant,' and to Betty R. Chinshe, also of Bay St. Louis, for 'outstanding work performance in processing emergency loan applications' in addition to her normal duties as county office clerk. Smith said the awards were presented in connection with demands made on the workers during recent drought and floods in this area. (Chinshe's citation carried, in addition, a $150 cash award. Chamber Retail Committee Chairman Pat Murphy said the Waveland store owner was chosen because of her friendly and courteous attitude shown toward her customers. Consumer specialist tells family savings methods if family members understand and agree on the reasons for saving money, they will be much more cooperative when asked to economize.

That's what Norine Barnes, area consumer management specialist, Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service, thinks - and her thinking is based on experiences she's encountered in her work with Mississippians who come to her office in Biloxi to learn how to manage their money more effectively. Ms. Barnes is a former Hancock County Home Economist.

People earn money to have food, shelter, clothing and to meet other financial goals. Generally, goals can be divided into three kinds: long-term goals, those you want to reach in 10 to 20 years; intermediate goals, those you feel are attainable within the next two to five years; and short-term goals, those attainable within the next two years.

"Project the cost of reaching each goal, then divide the cost of each goal by the number of months you have before achieving the goal," she suggests. "Now you know the total monthly figure you must put in savings or investment. It's hard, if not impossible, to take into account inflation, taxes, and investment yields on the long-term goals, but at least you have a starting place and you can adjust your total figure as more information is available," she adds.

Is it possible for you to save or invest the monthly amount needed to meet your goals? If not, you need to set priorities for your needs and wants. Where can you make changes? What goals can be postponed or eliminated? Let the entire family set these priorities.

Because your income is limited, your family cannot have everything at once. The planning process will require compromises and sacrifices, but it is important that these decisions be made before the money is spent, Mrs. Barnes says.

"If you have to postpone some of your goals, consider a debt-to-savings switch. When you finish paying a loan, begin immediately to put that amount in a savings account. You've been living without the money, so you won't miss it," she says.

Money that comes from moonlighting or overtime is another savings source. Some people have realized money for saving by breaking an expensive habit - smoking, eating out at lunch instead of "brown-bagging" or using the library instead of buying books and magazines.

Remember to shop and compare methods of saving and investing.

MISSISSIPPI WEEKLY WEATHER REPORT

Mississippi will experience above normal temperatures and above median rainfall from mid-September through mid-October, according to the Mississippi Weather Outlook distributed by the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

High temperatures during this time normally decline from the upper 80s to the upper 70s and low 80s, say agrometeorologists at the Mid-South Farm Weather Service in Stoneville who prepare the forecasts. Lows drop from the mid-60s to about 50 degrees.

With rainfall averaging about three inches for most of the state, this period is normally the driest of the year.

Although many farmers have waited for a good rain all summer, some crops are at a stage where more precipitation than normal will do more harm than good, the weather specialists say. Rice harvesting is in full swing, and soybean and cotton harvest will be under way soon.

Mississippi Weather & Crop Report

COUNTIES

CALHOUN CO. "Most of county got some rain on Wednesday. It varied from light to as much as 2 inches. Cotton harvesting in full swing."

YAZOO CO. "Harvest of soybeans and cotton have begun. Yields reflecting extreme damage from extended heat and drought."

RANKIN CO. "Ryegrass will be late unless we get rain real soon."

CLAY CO. "Lack of rain has caused severe damage to row crops and hay crops. Pastures are browning out. Fall grasses have not shown any sign of growth."

ADAMS CO. "Soybeans and cotton still looking pretty good considering the lack of moisture, but our 'pastures' are beginning to look bad. Some cattlemen already feeding stock."

COVINGTON CO. "Heavy infestation of green clover worms in late soybeans."

Thigpen: No section in all America has a history as interesting as ours

If you could have driven the present route of Highway 11 down through Mississippi in 1810 you would have passed out of the United States and into another nation when you drove through what is now Lumberton.

Pearl River and Hancock Counties have been over the years parts of 8 nations: France, England, Spain, West Florida, The Confederacy and the United States.

As you drove on south through what is now Poplarville, McNeill, Carriere, Picayune, Nicholson, Pearl River and Sibley you would have been traveling through the independent nation of West Florida.

You would have continued on through West Florida until you reached the middle of Lake Ponchartraine, when you would have re-entered the territory of the United States.

The history of that part of South Mississippi lying south of the 31st degree of latitude is very different from that part of the state north of this line and is very different from the history of any other section of the United States.

The old line of demarcation between the English possessions, and the French and then the Spanish, was the 31st degree of latitude, which is the present northern boundary of Pearl River County.

By right of discovery, France had long laid claim to all this region but not until January 1699 was any move made to possess and occupy it. At that time D'Iberville anchored off what is now the Mississippi Coast. He had been sent by the French government to explore and colonize Louisiana. He established his headquarters at Biloxi, which became the first capital of Louisiana.

In 1717 Louisiana was handed over to a company of French speculators, headed by John Law. This company established their headquarters at Biloxi. Due to bad management and improper understanding of conditions in the new world the Law Scheme failed.

The whole area remained under the dominion of France until on March 10th, 1763, by the Treaty of Paris, France surrendered to England all her possessions in North America east of the Mississippi River. At the same time Spain ceded to England her colonies of East and West Florida.

At about the same time the Island of New Orleans and the French territory, west of the Mississippi river were ceded by France to Spain. There had been a great realignment of territories.

Almost constant wars in Europe and the outcome of these wars brought great changes in the history of this part of the world. When Spain became involved in a new war with England and in 1763, Don Bernard De Galvez, the alert Spanish governor of Louisiana, attacked and captured British forts at Baton Rouge, Mobile and Pensacola, bringing West Florida which included what are now Pearl River and Hancock Counties, again under the flag of Spain.

The Spaniards held Louisiana, along with West Florida, until 1800 when all this area was ceded by Spain to Napoleon Bonaparte with all its metes and bounds, which carried it to the Perdido River in Florida.

Napoleon, with half of Europe at war with him and threatened with the sea power of England, found himself unable to take possession of Louisiana which at that time included Pearl River and Hancock Counties.

Napoleon secretly sent his brother to New Orleans to try to work up a rebellion in favor of France, but the brother failed to arouse any interest.

The emperor's brother made his headquarters, while on this mission at what is now known as Napoleon on the river below Picayune - that is what gave this point its name. To prevent the seizure of all this great territory by the British, Napoleon sold Louisiana to the United States on April 30, 1803.

Under the Louisiana Purchase the United States claimed all this coastal region of South Mississippi and on over eastward to the Perdido River.

But the Spaniards insisted that East Pearl River was the eastern boundary of Louisiana and not the Perdido.

In this dispute the Spaniards proceeded to occupy all of West Florida with strong military forces.

The United States at that time was not prepared to go to war, so tried to settle the dispute through diplomatic negotiation. This matter remained unsettled and in doubt until 1809.

West Florida, including Pearl River and Hancock Counties, was bounded on the north by the 31st degree of latitude - the old line of demarcation - on the south by the Gulf of Mexico and an imaginary line drawn through Lakes Ponchartraine and Maurepas and the rivers of Amite and Manchac to the Mississippi River and at that time extended from the Apalachicola River in Florida to the Mississippi, including of course, Baton Rouge.

Over the years many thousands of Americans had settled up and down both sides of Pearl River and in the territory between the Pearl and the Mississippi under grants from both the Spanish and British governments.

These hardy settlers, practically all from the United States, became more and more dissatisfied with the frequent changes in government and with the many conflicting land claims. They liked neither the Spanish or the British. Numerous right tracts of land were claimed by more than one person.

When the English came in, they refused to recognize certain land claims that had been granted by Spain and vice versa.

The title to one of the old claims at Walkish, a place worth much money, was so uncertain that a man named Parker, who had spent much money improving this place, sold his claim when a dispute arose for $15 in cash and left, saying that he was gone to where he could buy a piece of land and it would belong to him.

Brilliant lawyers from up east moved into West Florida because of the great amount of litigation over land claims. One man said of his claim, "There are enough law suits in it to cost me more than it is worth."

Instead of getting better, conditions got worse. In 1810 enough of these settlers banded together to seize the Spanish Fort at Baton Rouge. They organized a convention, adopted a flag and declared their independence with the name of the new nation as West Florida.

They sent out military forces to force allegiance to the new nation. Later on that same year they applied as a sovereign state for admission as a state to the United States.

President Madison on the 29th of October 1810, no longer fearing the waning power of Spain, issued a proclamation declaring that West Florida was within the limits of Louisiana when ceded by France to the United States and directed Governor Claiborne, of Orleans territory, to take civil and military possession of same.

In pursuance of these orders Governor Claiborne took over West Florida without opposition. The American settlers had accomplished their main objective - the placing of their territory under the jurisdiction of the United States.

For a time chaos reigned in this area. Bands of Jayhawkers, brigands and robbers roamed this section. At one time there were big warehouses, built by buccaneers, at Gainesville for the storing of goods of all kinds which had been hijacked from ships in the Gulf of Mexico.

A scramble now developed as to what would be done with the territory comprising West Florida. George Poindexter, a man of great ability and later governor of Mississippi, was Mississippi's territorial representative in Congress. He took all possible measures to get all of West Florida added to the territory of Mississippi. In this he was opposed by Louisiana interests who wanted it all added to Louisiana. Some few plugged for a new state.

A compromise was reached with the lines that now prevail, Mississippi getting all the territory from East Pearl River to St. Stephens Meridian, which is the Mississippi-Alabama line today.

With the raising of the United States flag over this new territory, five flags had flown over it - the French, the Spanish, the British, West Florida and the stars and stripes of the United States. Then in 1861 the Bonnie Blue Flag of the Confederate States of America was unfurled, making six flags in all to fly over what is now our home.

No other section in all America has such an interesting history - no other section has a history like ours.

Two Biloxi hotels receive AAA rating

The Biloxi Hilton and the Broadwater Beach Hotel have received special plaques from the American Automobile Association in recognition of their 'Four-Diamond' rating from AAA.

The rating is one of highest honors a hotel, motel or resort can earn from AAA. E.A. Sheehan, manager of AAA's Central Gulf Division, presented the plaques recently in Biloxi to representatives of the hotel.

Accepting for the Hilton were owner John C. Yemelos and General Manager William H. Creel. Representing the Broadwater were General Manager T.M. Dorsett and Resident Manager Jack Stanford.

The hotels received the motoring federation's rating in the 1980 AAA Louisiana-Alabama-Mississippi Tourbook, one of a series of travel information guides published for AAA's 21 million members.

According to Sheehan, "A Four-Diamond rating is awarded only to those exceptional properties which significantly exceed AAA requirements in most physical and operational categories."

"Under AAA's rating system, accommodations undergo rigorous inspections by AAA field representatives and, if they qualify for recommendation, are assigned an overall rating of one to five diamonds," Sheehan explained.

Ratings appear next to establishment listings in AAA Tourbooks to help members recognize the motoring organization's assessment of the quality of the property. Higher ratings are an indication of the degree to which basic standards are exceeded.

An AAA spokesman said only a fifth of all properties in the country meet AAA's requirements for recommendation and even one diamond signifies a 'Quality establishment.'

Feeder pig show slated in Laurel

Pork producers and purebred breeders will gather in Laurel Oct. 22-23 for the 9th annual feeder pig show to be held at the Laurel Feeder Pig Barn.

Sponsored by the Mississippi Pork Producers Association and the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service, the show is funded by the Laurel and Wayne Feeder Pig Associations.

"The purpose of the show is to encourage producers to raise better quality pigs and to provide a source of top pigs for 4-H'ers to feed for the spring shows," said Dr. James Shannon, Extension livestock specialist. "Pigs for the show should be about 8 to 12 weeks old. There are four weight classes, and a producer can have two entries in each class."

Weight classes for the show, which is open to all Mississippi purebred and commercial pig producers, are: Class I, 45-55 pounds; Class II, 56-65 pounds; Class III, 66-75 pounds; and Class IV, 76-85 pounds. All pigs must have been farrowed on the farm of the exhibitor.

Five percent commission will be charged for the sale of each pig to help finance the show, Dr. Shannon added. The Grand Champion will receive $100 and the Reserve Grand Champion, $50.

Perk offers kid's play to local area

The Perk Players of Gulf Coast Junior College will begin its annual tour of area schools and organizations with the children's play 'Barnyard Blues,' Oct. 16.

Speech and Drama Instructor Kathryn Lewis said the play is written by GCJC student Brenda Jacobs. "The play shows children the importance of accepting people for who they are despite their differences. It teaches them everyone is unique and has something special to contribute to society," Lewis explains.

Lewis adds the 30-minute production is for children in the first - sixth grades. Schools and organizations interested in scheduling the play are invited to write to Mrs. Lewis at GCJC's Perkins Campus, 39573.

The group will end its tour Dec. 4.

The tour marks the 11th consecutive year the Perk Players under Lewis' direction.

Gulf Coast Junior College enrollment up 10 percent

Enrollment of full-time academic, vocational and technical day students is up almost 10 percent over last year's fall registration at Gulf Coast Junior College's Jackson County, Jefferson Davis and Perkins campuses and Keester and George County Occupational Training Centers.

In a recent report to the college board of trustees, Herb Carnathan, administrative assistant for institutional research and planning, said the administration, "anticipates a total enrollment of 13,000-an increase of 3,000 over last year at the end of six weeks."

Jackson County campus enrollment was up nearly eight-percent with the Jefferson Davis campus showing an 8.6 percent increase.

The George County Occupational Training Center in

Lucedale was up 16 percent while the Perkins Campus had an increase of 12.5 percent.

Carnathan noted enrollment is expected to continue increasing until 1991.

Junior College President J.J. Hayden Jr. said the increase at the boarding campus has resulted in crowded dormitories and classroom space being utilized at maximum capacity.

Hayden also said the college's long-range building plans include additional classrooms at Perkins, but said the greatest need now is for more dormitory space.

Full time day academic enrollment at the three campuses was up 143 (8.4 percent) while in the technical category it increased 289 (28.9 percent). Vocational full time day enrollment at the campuses and George County Occupational Training Center was down 81 (14.4 percent) giving a total full time day enrollment increase of 351 (9.3 percent).

In other board business, the trustees approved a construction program for the Jefferson Davis Campus with total cost estimated at $1 million. The program involves the science, student services, data processing and student center areas.

The program approval includes preliminary plans and specifications as developed by architects and authorization for submitting a request for approval of the project to the State Building Commission and the Commission on Budget and Accounting.

R and D Center receives grant

The Mississippi Research and Development Center in Jackson received notification recently a $50,000 grant from the Economic Development Administration has been approved.

Center Director Kenneth C. Wagner said, this is the 13th grant received by the R & D Center. The money helps create new job opportunities and assists existing business and industry within the state.

Services of the R & D Center's technical assistance program are provided to individuals, companies and development officials-public, private, and civic.

"Not only does the division staff work to create job opportunities, but also to strengthen the profit position and efficiency of existing firms," Wagner explained.

"The impact of this program can be measured not only in terms of a higher standard of living for those previously unemployed, but also in a general strengthening of the area economies," Wagner added.

VA questions and answers

Q - When the Veterans Administration suspends or terminates an educational award payment on a veteran, must the VA also notify the veteran of this action?

A - Yes. The VA must send a notice of suspended or terminated benefits to the veteran simultaneously with the action to suspend or stop an educational award. The notice also must explain the veteran's entitlement to know the reasons for the suspension or termination and the veteran's right to respond.

State Department of Mental Health slates 'Phase III' budget meeting

A series of state-wide meetings were announced today for introduction of a 'Phase III' budget request by the Mississippi Department of Mental Health.

A Gulf Coast meeting is scheduled for 10:30 a.m. Nov. 6 at the South Mississippi Retardation Center, 1140 West Railroad St., Long Beach. (Region 13 and 14)

Dr. Jan Duker, executive director of the department reported the meetings will inform legislators about the status of current programs and plans for additional projects.

Department personnel, and division heads will be on hand with directors of state mental hospitals, mental-retardation facilities, and community mental health centers.

"We want to familiarize legislators with what the department is doing and what we will need in order to improve our services," Duker said.

The executive director said one major need is a community-based residential treatment program for emotionally disturbed children and adolescents.

"This has long been recognized as a weakness in our total state effort and we will direct legislators' attention to it," Duker stated.

The executive director explained Mississippi has seen two major phases in its history of services for the mentally ill:

Phase I ran from 1855 to 1963, when the emphasis was on institutionalization, as provided primarily by the state;

Phase II, from 1963 to the present, saw these efforts supplemented by federal-local funding partnerships for prevention and community treatment services at regional mental-health centers.

The proposed Phase III would be a comprehensive delivery system for mental health services, which calls for cooperation on an even wider scale. "Community programs and institutions must work very closely together to provide the best possible care to citizens in need of mental health services," Duke noted.

"We will be outlining Phase III at these regional informational meetings. We expect good attendance, because Mississippi's legislators have traditionally shown strong interest in mental-health care," the executive director reported.

Duker announced other regional meetings will be:

- Sept. 23 at East Mississippi State Hospital at Meridian (Region 10);

- Sept. 25 at the Golden West Restaurant at Starkville (Region 7);

- Oct. 1 at Mississippi State Hospital at Whitfield (Regions 8, 9 and 15);

- October 21 at the Ramada

Inn at Tupelo (Regions 3 and 4);

- Oct. 22 at North Mississippi Retardation Center at Oxford (Regions 1 and 2);

- Oct. 28 at the Holiday Inn at McComb (Region 11);

- Oct. 30 at the Greenwood-Leflore Convention Center at Greenwood (Regions 5 and 6);

- Nov. 12 at Ellisville State School at Ellisville (Region 12).
